Zarvos Coaching and Consulting Announces A Workshop Where Women Will Be Coming Together To Explore Becoming A Conscious and Connected Woman In Today's Changing World

(INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA August 18, 2009) Zarvos Coaching and Consulting announced a new workshop called “The Gathering” designed to inspire, celebrate, and elevate women’s consciousness in today’s challenging times. This economy has brought adversity and change that is impacting women’s families and businesses. The Gathering is an experiential weekend workshop designed to support women who are experiencing a need to connect, share, and examine their roles with other conscious women as they reground themselves in what matters and what will matter in order to be successful in today’s world.

“My intention for the weekend is to create a powerful way for us to share and communicate regarding life, love, relationships, our roles, while creating a space where women can support each other’s personal and spiritual growth,” says Nora Zarvos, co-owner of Zarvos Coaching and Consulting and facilitator for The Gathering. “I know when women come together there is an undeniable healing and strength created which moves us forward!”

The weekend workshop will be held September 25th through 27th in Indianapolis at Zarvos Coaching and Consulting. The Zarvos Coaching and Consulting conference center is located at 1329 W. 96th Street. The workshop is open for women over the age of 18 years old. Information on The Gathering and Zarvos Coaching and Consulting can be found at <http://zarvoscoaching.com>
